Registration for Military Service To Start Monday

J. M. Brahy, Local Board Member Calls For Four Assistants

Registration for military training of young men between the ages of 18 through 25 in Antioch area will start Monday, John M. Brahy, Antioch member of the Lake county board announced today.

For the northern part of the county registration will be at the Antioch American Legion home, Brahy announced.

A call for volunteer workers has been issued. Three or four are needed, persons desiring to help in a clerical way are asked to get in touch with John Horan, or call Mr. Brahy at Ontario 1125, or write him at Antioch, Rte. 1.

Mr. Brahy is a resident of Lake Marie and is employed in the office of the internal revenue collector at the old postoffice building in Waukegan.

Word that those married before the day of registration would not need to take military training sent thousands to marriage license bureaus this week. A registration official in Washington said that this situation will be true if President Truman makes no change.

This will be the first peacetime draft in the history of the United States.

Earl Gibbs Residence On Lake St. Damaged By Fire on Tuesday

An estimated $4,000 damage was done to the residence and furnishings of Earl R. Gibbs at 444 Lake st., early Tuesday afternoon, through a fire which destroyed the upper interior of the building.

No member of the family was at home when the fire started and the cause is not known.

Mr. Gibbs had returned to work at the A and P grocery store where he is manager at 1 p. m. and Mrs. Gibbs was on a business trip down town when the blaze was discovered by Mrs. Evelyn Frazier who happened to be passing and saw smoke pouring from a window.

The Antioch fire department made a quick run and is credited with saving most of the building and contents.

"Jim McMillen and his men certainly did a fine job," commented Mr. Gibbs. An unidentified beer salesman who had experience as a Chicago fireman, joined the department in giving effective service. Neighbors carried out the furniture and equipment down stairs.

While the firemen braved intense heat of a very hot day to combat the fire, neighbors and friends carried out the belongings of Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs.

Although their clothing was not burned, it was rendered largely useless because of smoke and water damage.

Firemen said the blaze started upstairs near the front of the building in the vicinity of a closet along a wall.

The Gibbs are staying with his mother in Richmond until repairs are made.

Seven candidates are expected to take the examination for rural mail carrier at the grade school building in Lake Villa Saturday, Aug. 28. Stanton M. Hazen will be the examiner.

An examination to select a clerk for the Trevor, Wis., postoffice has been set for 8:30 a. m. Sept. 18, at the Antioch grade school. There are two applicants.

STORK LIKES HOT WEATHER

Sixteen babies were born at Victory Memorial hospital between 5 p. m. Tuesday and the same time Wednesday in the biggest rush the hospital has ever had. The usual number in the nursery at one time is 15, but now there are 30.

Dairymen Get $38,487
Lake county dairy farmers received $38,487.17 for milk delivered to Bowman Dairy Company receiving station during the month of July. Monthly figures are sent to this newspaper as soon as they are compiled at Bowman's general office.

Firemen Haul Water to Relieve Shortage on Farms, Fight Grass Fires

Antioch firemen have volunteered their services in the past week in hauling water to farms where there is a shortage of water for stock and for fire protection.

The township truck is used for this purpose and the water is placed in cisterns and tanks.

Because of the low water level in some areas there is a shortage of water each year on some farms. The dry weather of recent days had added to the drought conditions.

The Antioch township corn crop already poor because of weather conditions suffered still more from the heat. On two successive days this week the temperature got up to 100.

The department was called on Tuesday to the LaPlant land east of the Soo line tracks on Rte. 173 to put out a fire that burned the pasture and oats stubble.

Antioch High School Has 281 Enrollment at Start of Year, Sept. 7

An enrollment of at least 281 students is expected this year at the Antioch Township High school in contrast to 260 at the same period last year, T. R. Birkhead, principal announced.

There will be 48 seniors and 78 freshmen. Prin. Birkhead said the school would be able to handle the increase nicely.

"We can take care of 300 persons without too great inconvenience but above that number we will be crowded." He said that a survey of grade school pupils will be taken within the next month in ascertaining what the prospects are for the school in the next two years.

Prin. Birkhead said that the greatest problem is community growth in which new families move in. Increase from that standpoint is hard to anticipate.

Students are asked to come to the school on Sept. 7 to get their books and learn the bus schedules. They will have to get to the school the best way they can on Tuesday, but on Wednesday the first day of classes, the buses will be running.

Freshmen will have a book cost of about $6, the principal said. The exact amount will depend on the courses taken. These books will be bought back at a price determined by the condition of them.

"We expect the average book to last three years and buy them back on that basis," said Mr. Birkhead. This amounts to a rental, but we prefer to let the student buy the books outright and then they are responsible themselves for their care," he explained.

German Family Sends Thanks To Methodist Group Here For Aid in Food, Clothing

A recent letter to Mrs. Carol P. Tossey from the Huebener family a local Methodist church group has been aiding throws additional light on conditions in Germany where food and clothing were sent.

The letter follows:

Dear Mrs. Tossey:
Your letter, for which I thank you very much, arrived some time ago, and you can guess how excited the whole family was, waiting for the parcel to come. And it did come, yesterday. Oh, dear Mrs. Tossey, please tell your group, that they made our family very, very happy indeed. May God bless you all for the love you sent with those wonderful things to us, to strangers, only bound through the love of Christ. Words can't explain the joy of the children. They didn't go to bed hungry last night and tonight either, thanks to you. And how they enjoyed all those delicious things. Tomorrow, Sunday, we have a lovely dinner, I make sort of yeast buns (of course with black flour) but wonderful prunes to eat with them. Another day with wonderful food and not being hungry. And now let me tell you how pleased I was over the towels and clothes and all the things, we can do with so badly. Hella at once put on the dress and it fits lovely and Peter at once put on the shorts, and they fit as if made for him. And then they tossed for the sweater, but agreed at the end to wear them both Joe and Hella you made them very happy indeed. How long since we were able to buy anything for the children—before the war began. How long since I saw soap like that.

Lions Carnival Opens Tonight for Four Days; Peck Returns with Rides

Spectacular Act Expected To Draw Crowds Each Evening

The eleventh annual carnival sponsored by the Antioch Lions club will get under way this evening for a four-day round of fun for everybody.

The C. S. Peck Amusement company of Peoria, Ill., which supplied the rides for the Lions' first carnival 11 years ago, is returning this summer after an absence of five years.

Peck is bringing a ferris wheel, merry-go-round, Tilt-a-whirl, and kiddie ride and is supplying concessions which includes a performing monkey game.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars will have a refreshment stand.

The chief attraction will be the Skylarks, a man and wife who will perform on a steel mast 115 ft. in the air without net protection. They will appear each evening at 7:15 and 11 o'clock.

The profits from the carnival will be used by the Lions club in helping finance the Antioch Rescue squad and for other civic matters.

The Rescue squad will be on hand each evening to give first aid if needed. There were rumors that they might have their new truck on display before the week is over but Capt. Herman Holbek would give no confirmation.

The carnival is set up on the Ackerman grounds next to the water tower. There will be plenty of parking space.

In the Open

At long last, some of the proponents of a completely socialized electric industry seem to be coming into the open, and dropping such worn and shabby bits of camouflage as flood control, irrigation and the rest. One of the frankest statements was recently made at the dedication of a dam in Montana, by Michael W. Straus, Commissioner of the Bureau of Reclamation. "Your government is definitely entering the low-cost power production field," he said. "And it plans to make . . . all the power from here to the Pacific Ocean available to its citizens over transmission lines which they own."

That is certainly unequivocal. And if it is proper for the government to establish a socialized electrical monopoly in the Far West, it is equally proper for it to do the same thing everywhere else. Then, if such a monopoly ever is created, the government will dominate all the enterprise of America. As David E. Lilienthal once pointed out, with commendable frankness, "Those who control energy, control people." The Tennessee Valley Authority, which he once headed, is the prime example of that fundamental truth. Through its monopoly of electric power, the basic industrial energy, it has become the economic dictator of the Southeast.

The power issue must be fought to a finish on principle. We can be served by a highly efficient, heavily taxed private industry which is regulated in every phase of operation by commissions representing the public interest. Or we can be served by a tax free, unregulated, subsidized political monopoly over which we would have no direct control whatsoever. There is no other choice.

Working Together

The interdependence of the $20,000,000,000 oil industry and the $111,000,000,000 agricultural industry is the subject of a recent news release. The change-over from man and animal power to petroleum power has been one of the basic causes of a remarkable increase in farm production in late years.

Last year, there were nearly 3,000,000 fewer workers and 5,000,000 fewer draft animals on American farms than in 1940. Yet food production was 35 per cent greater. Today American farmers use more than 3,000,000 tractors, 1,880,000 trucks and close to 5,000,000 motor cars. On top of that oil powers a long list of other tools from gigantic self-propelled combines to such specialized equipment as cotton pickers and nut harvesters.

Agriculture, therefore, is one of the oil industry's best and most dependable customers. But the buying isn't all on one side. The industry consumes more than 40,000,000 pounds of agricultural products each year, not counting food. Tons of animal and vegetable oils are used in the manufacture of special greases. Wheat bran, cottonseed hulls and other products are employed to plug porous underground formations found when drilling wells.

This is just one excellent example of how all elements in a free enterprise economy work directly and indirectly to the betterment of each other. And that, in turn, is why this country leads the world in the production of goods of every kind, and in the living standards of the people.

Ball corners. Relatives began arriving on Friday for the event and some are remaining for a longer visit with relatives who live in this vicinity. A picnic dinner was served at noon on the lawn with supper at the close of the day. During the afternoon there was a brief business meeting. The president, Lemuel Clark of Glen Ellyn, Ill., absent due to an accident in which he sustained a fractured leg and is a patient at a local hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clark, of Chicago, were re-elected secretary and treasurer respectively. A most interesting letter was read from one of their clan, Peter Menzies (the Scotch form of spelling) from Glasgow, Scotland, and another from Mrs. Lemuel Minnis. The descendants of James and Jane Minnis found much to reminisce about throughout the afternoon and evening.

The roster of guests included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dixon, the Misses Jennie and Jossie Loesch, Mrs. Annie Minnis, Enola and Lucia, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Huntoon, George, Annette and James, all of Salem; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Teunas, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Minnis, Kenosha; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Pierce, Hammond, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Care of the Soil
Like a man's arm, the soil is built up through proper use, not abuse or disuse. When land is either abused through bad cropping systems or left to lie idle and erode, it deteriorates rapidly.

German Family....

(Continued from page 1.) and cotton we have not had given to us in rations at all after the war. No mending cotton or darning twist. It was lovely you thought of both.

Now I have looked for some snaps and found just these three, of my husband, Joe and Hella. It's an old photo of my husband, taken during the war, he looks very bad at present, but I just want you to have an idea. Perhaps I send you a snap of Peter and myself in my next letter.

By the way the parcel was packed very good and arrived in a good condition. You want me to tell you quite frankly what we need most, well dear Mrs. Tossey to tell you the truth, we need everything.

The rations are so tiny, they are eaten up in 2 days and should last ten days. But what our bodies need most of all is FAT! Fat or oil and sugar and meat, that is what the doctors say our bodies need. For the children milk, cocoa, FAT. That is what we need very badly and if you want to give us (me especially) a treat, a cup of tea or coffee to make us fresh. Please, all you dear people, don't think I want to be greedy, I just want to explain. I think, if you spend such a lot of money and time to help us and if you ask me to be frank, I must tell you.

At present we are having a very exciting time in Berlin. We are to get new money, I suppose you have heard about it, and some people get very excited. I don't mind as I haven't any to lose.

I wonder whether our missionary from here, Mr. Scholz, has been in Antioch. He is in America now to the Conference. Did you hear him or his wife. They are lovely people and we are very anxious to have them back and listen to all they will have to tell us from America. They have sent letters saying how kindly everyone is to them and they get invitations to speak all over the place.

Dear Mrs. Tossey, I am so happy

TO THE TAXPAYERS AND CITIZENS OF ANTIOCH TOWNSHIP, WE PUBLISH THE FOLLOWING LETTER RECEIVED FROM THE COUNTY CLERK'S OFFICE.

August 20, 1948

The Antioch News Antioch, Illinois Attention Mr. Howard Gaston

Dear Sir:

As requested by you, I shall attempt to explain the tax problem which has received so much publicity and so much misrepresentation in the last many years. Many people are totally misled as to its true facts. This misrepresentation passed so freely is, in my opinion, irresponsible statements from irresponsible persons.

Taxes, of course, are always unpopular and unfortunately an absolute necessity for the communities' own good as well as the nation.

Let us start with the assessment of property—that is the evaluation of its worth. Since the year 1927, the law of the State of Illinois has required that all property for tax purposes be evaluated at its full, fair, cash value. The Supreme Court has ruled many times that the definition of full, fair, cash value is what a willing market will produce—that is a willing buyer and a willing seller.

The assessors of Lake County, since the year 1927 and until the enactment of the so-called Butler Bill have not followed the statutory provision of 100% assessments. They all assessed property at a percentage of the full value, some townships as low as 11% while other townships as high as 25%, causing an inequality in assessment between townships for an overlapping taxing body. Since the enactment of the Butler Bill, the intent of the law is to eliminate these inequalities between townships as well as the State equalization multiplier is intended to equalize the assessment between the different counties of the entire state as a whole. The assessments as now finally determined are presumed to be the full, fair, cash values of the property. Of course there is bound to be some few individual assessments that might not measure to that standard, but if they are brought to the attention of the assessing authorities, the necessary corrections or adjustments will be made.

When we speak of the inequalities, let us just point out to you how some of them actually apply. Let us take farm lands in your township. Prior to the Butler Bill, the bare farm land acreage was assessed at an average of between $35 and $40 an acre plus the improvements. After the multiplier was first applied for the 1946 taxes collected in 1947, the multiplier being 5.8824, it produced an acreage assessment on farm lands ranging between $210 and $260 an acre, plus improvements. This assessment on the acreage of $210 to $260, of course, was more than what the land actually was worth so that in the assessment for the year 1947, taxes payable in 1948, the assessors recognized this inequality and assessed the acreage at approximately $130 to $160 an acre plus improvements. A person having a large number of acres in his farm and having the acreage valuation reduced, between the 1946 value and the 1947 final value, naturally gave him a substantial reduction in the assessment. The improvements on farm lands had been assessed below its worth and, of course they were increased; however, the large reduction in the land value offset the increase in the improvements, resulting in a lower assessed valuation for the year 1947 than what was the assessed value for the year 1946. On your subdivision property, the lots had been assessed too high and of course the assessors recognized that fact as well. They reduced the assessed value of the lot, but in the case of the improvement, (same as on the farm buildings), the assessment was too low and the improvement value was increased. Therefore, since there were not as many lots as in the case of farms with many acres, the increased improvement valuation was substantially more than the decrease in the lot value which naturally produced a higher assessed valuation for the year 1947 than in 1946. That is the reason for the incidence of the shifted values between farm lands and subdivision lands with improvements thereon.

That is the picture of the assessed valuations, now we come to the tax itself.

Taxes are levied by the local taxing bodies—that is, your township, your road and bridge, your schools, high school, your village, your fire protection district, and the county. All but the county are strictly local. Their levies are for monies needed to operate that taxing body and give you the services particular to the unit. The county, of course, levies the county tax which includes the Tuberculosis Sanatorium, the county highway for maintenance of the highways, the Detention Home, bond issues, and general corporate. The tax rates for these taxing bodies which go to make up your tax bill are determined by the dividing of the total assessed valuation of the taxing district into the levy as certified by the particular taxing district. The only limitation that the County Clerk can put on the rate in extending taxes is that the rate may not exceed either the statutory rate, or if a referendum has been voted, the rate voted by the people. In your case you had several different referendums and I assure you that the ceilings in rates imposed by the referendums has not been exceeded. The tax levies of your various taxing districts for the year 1947 are substantially higher than they were for the year 1946. Referendums had been voted and carried and since the levies were considerably more than the year before and the total tax extension for 1947 naturally had to be and is much more than the year 1946. For the year 1947, the total tax extension in your township amounts to $227,855.45, while for the year 1946, collectible in 1947, it amounted to $173,572.50. This increase in the total extension, of course, had to be spread on the various properties according to districts as an increased tax.

All this money extended, with the exception of the tax for County purposes amounted to $26,124.48, is money that, when collected, goes back to your township for your own local purposes and is not sent elsewhere. A share of the County Tax of $26,124.48, is used in your township for maintenance of County highways, for maintenance of sheriff's highway patrol, for your use of the Tuberculosis Sanatorium, and for other County institutions.

You can readily see that tax money assessed against your people is spent for the benefit of no one but themselves in your township. If the services rendered by the taxing bodies are what the people wish and the money judiciously expended, which I am sure is the case, then the taxpayer should feel that he has received his money's worth and recognize the obligation that naturally must be imposed upon him. Again, on the other hand, if he is getting services that are in excess of demands, then he should let it be known to his local taxing officials that less services are required and, of course if lesser service is given, naturally the tax will proportionately be that much less.

The whole problem boils down to this one point. If you want good schools, good roads, good police, good fire protection, the proper care of the poor, its costs money, and the source for that money is only from the tax payer.

I have tried to give you an accurate picture of the tax problem and should there be any further information that you wish, please feel free to call on me.

Sincerely yours,
WALTER J. SMITH

BULLETIN

CONSTITUTION DAY coming, we've been gathering biographical bits on the thirty-nine men who on September 17, 1787, at the Philadelphia Convention signed the Constitution of the United States. Two of the thirty-nine signers met death on the dueling ground. Two of them were arrested by our government but never brought to trial. One endorser invented the bi-focals—and for a very personal reason. Another introduced the lush hot-house and the ice-house to America. One gentleman lost a leg, another a sweetheart. One was a fisherman, another a golfer. One came to this country because of his health, another because of a hurricane. One delegate who was a lawyer bickered with his son-in-law. Another, who was a lawyer, after winning a legal battle, was buttonholed by the losing party and . . . but you'll read about it in this month's story which is full of biographical bits on the signers of Our Constitution.
